MONDAY, APRIL 5, 1852.

Railroad from Bangor to Waterville.—The two meetings which have been recently held in this city in order to prepare a plan for the safe loaning of the city credit for the sum of $100,000, in order to secure the construction of a railroad from this city to Waterville, have resulted in the preparation and acceptance of a bill for the purpose, in the expression of a very strong desire that the bill should be passed by the Legislature, and in the conviction, in the minds of the people generally, of the importance and necessity of the road in order to facilitate travel, and increase and promote the business and growth of the city.

A large and respectable committee have been appointed to proceed to Augusta, for the purpose of laying the matter before the Legislature, and to ask their immediate attention to the subject. The principle has been established in this State of authorizing cities and towns to grant their credit for railroad purposes, as in the case of Portland, Bath, Augusta, Hallowell, Gardiner and other places, and that there does not seem to be any fair ground of objection to granting this authority to the citizens of Bangor upon the same terms as have been granted to others. Yet we are informed that the bill will meet with opposition in the Legislature, and that the Kennebec influence, put in operation here in this city, will not step up as the guardian of Bangor, and endeavor to defeat one of its favorite plans for the improvement of the city and the development of the resources of that portion of the State.

This is being too much of a mere local question. Bangor asks for no special privileges. It demands the passage of the loan bill which she has prepared as a matter of equal right and justice in common with her sister cities. The citizens of Bangor feel competent to judge as to those measures which will best promote their welfare; and they have as much right to vote as any man who deems their interests adverse to that of Bangor to be, no matter what. Yet there are some persons here opposed to this, but if the bill is to be finally adopted by a two-thirds vote before its acceptance, surely no wrong can be done to the minority. Besides, a portion of the remonstrants were opposed to the form of the first bill, but are strongly in favor of the present bill, so that their true position is in favor of the present measure.

The right has been granted to Portland and to the towns and cities on the lower Kennebec to accomplish great public improvements by the loan of their corporation credit, which they could not have done by private enterprise. They have greatly benefitted themselves thereby. Can any man assign a decent reason why the same authority should not be granted to the city of Bangor? She has a great enterprise which can be accomplished by granting the credit, and by no other means; and it would be a most wanton and ruthless disregard of the welfare of other colonies and cities, a settled determination to cripple her energies, for the Legislature to listen to the voices of remonstrance, opposers and haters of Bangor, who have refuse to permit her to work out her legitimate good, by denying to her the same facilities which have been freely granted to other cities. We will not believe that Bangor will thus be trampled, and kept upon, by the Legislature; certainly she will not be without an explanation of her disposition.

Of the benefits, and importance of the proposed communication, our Representative in the Legislature, Abraham Sanborn, Esq., has stated in an able manner in his speech upon the subject of the amendment proposed to the Somerset and Kennebec Railroad Charter, a few extracts from which we propose to give.

Mr. Sanborn said:

We became a sovereign state in 1820. We took our place in the beautiful and glorious brotherhood of the Union. But our independence was only political and civil. So far, we had been emancipated from Massachusetts; but no further. We remained just as entirely dependent upon, and subservient to, her, in every branch of our trade and commerce, after that event, as before. We, indeed, as we now have every element of agricultural, mechanical, manufacturing and commercial prosperity—a climate, though cold and salubrious and invigorating—a soil, under proper cultivation, admirably adapted to grazing and growing the best and hardiest cattle and horses, the growing of wool and the production of hay, potatoes, oats and wheat—deep and broad navigable rivers, stretching far inland and furnishing here and there, just at the proper locality, water power to propel all sorts of machinery for the manufacture of cotton, woolen and wood—forests full of pines as tall as the cedars of Lebanon, and more useful and really valuable than any tree that grows beneath the sun—a long and carrying sea coast, abounding the safest and most capacious harbors, and a population which, for physical power and endurance, general intelligence and industrious energy, are not surpassed if excelled, by that of any sister state. Nevertheless, with all these privileges and advantages with all these elements and instruments of wealth, power and independence, we never, until some six years ago, began, even to aid by our enterprise—we had no business for ourselves to realize. We had been content to live upon the fruits of the labor and skill of others, and that too at their own prices. We had been content to be the hewers of wood and drawers of water for the cities and villages of Massachusetts, and to receive for our labor such wages as they chose to give us. We had no trade worth the name, and no commerce. We had no trade policy, and as a consequence no state pride, no state patriotism. At length a few of us began to think and act for ourselves, and to assert the rights of the State. Then arose a cry against us, and we could hardly open our mouths in favor of the State, but we were charged with being disorganizers. They were aware that of all the instruments of mischief to be used against them, none could be more effectual than the cry of disorganizer. They had long and successfully used it to put down all attempts to improve and build up the State. Whenever any one proposed to do anything for the State, he was met with the cry of disorganizer, and it was generally sufficient to deter him from any further attempts. IMPORTANT TO
SAW MILL OWNERS.

THE subscribers having made arrangements to manufacture and sell Messrs. R. & W. F. Mayo's Machines, on which patent has been applied for, invented for the purpose of cutting up and destroying edgings made in saw mills and lath Machines, would recommend them to mill owners and operators, as a "great labor saving Machine" for keeping mills clear of edgings and waste stuff and also to prevent their being thrown into the rivers and streams which now causes so much trouble, loss and expense by filling up the channels, making back water and flooding and breaking booms &c.

These Machines need only to be seen in operation, to satisfy all interested in lumbering operations of their great importance and utility to their interest.

These Machines are simple in their construction and operation and durable, and not liable to get out of order.

They beg leave to refer to the annexed certificates as to the value of these Machines to those engaged in the manufacture of lumber.

HINCKLEY & EGERY.

THE subscribers having purchased and had in operation at their Saw Mills at the Old Mills, four of the Messrs. Mayo's Machines for cutting up and destroying Edgings, have found them to answer all the purposes for which they were intended, and can recommend them as a great labor saving Machine and one of the most important improvements required in the manufacture of lumber.

JOHN FISKE,
JOHN W. VEAZIE.

Bangor, Feb. 12, 1852.

WE having one of Messrs. Mayo's Machines for cutting up and destroying edgings in operation in our Saw Mills, fully concur in the opinion expressed in the certificate of Messrs. Fiske & Veazie.

Half of them are sold by quacks, or persons having not a tithe of the intelligence and liberal knowledge, and the science of the healing system of the author of the above medicine. For dry, hard coughs, and for children with severe spasmodic colds, or with croup, it is invaluable; and I challenge a trial of effects with any Indian, Egyptian, Arabian, English, French, German or any other foreign or domestic preparation, which is now offered to the public for sale, in all the cases for which it is recommended. It was made by Doct Wisely Hardy, its author, for many years with great success. More than twenty thousand have tried it, and all commend it. then why look farther?

A Certificate.

BANGOR, June 8, 1850.

THIS certifies that I have had occasion to apply Sickness, with a dollar expenditure, and having used several bottles of Red Water with at all times, effect was found to try a bottle of MANN'S EYE WATER, which entirely cured the disease and saved me a large bill. I recommend it to all who are afflicted with sore eyes, as I have used another bottle, and carried it into the woods with a crew of Lumbermen. Four or five of the men were troubled with sore Eyes. All were cured that used it, and I purchased
